Experience

Research Scientist, Adobe

present

Member of Marc Levoy's computational photography team. I build models that are novel enough to publish at top venues and robust enough to ship on-device to millions of users.

Education

Brown University, B.S. Computer Science

2022

Visual Computing and AI/ML pathways. Graduated with Honors and won the Senior Prize in Computer Science. Undergraduate research in James Tompkin's Visual Computing Lab on deep fake detection. Senior thesis, Consistent Depth Estimation for Video, won 1st Prize at the Brown CS Undergraduate Research Symposium.

Open Source Contributions

pconfigs, Adobe (Apache 2.0)

A dataclass-based Python config library. Configs are typed, inheritable Python classes that live next to the code they configure, instead of brittle text files that drift out of sync. We used it throughout the reflection removal project.
